Our solution

Litigation means active resolution of a dispute whether through formal Court or Tribunal proceedings, arbitration or assisted negotiations. We at Levi Solicitors aim throughout to achieve the best commercial results for the client in the shortest period of time available.

We advance and defend our clients interests, we protect their rights by pre-emptive action if required, but by assertive negotiation where possible. It is essential to get effective advice and the right legal team on your side from the start, and when it comes to litigation, that means Levi Solicitors.

The disputes that we are asked to help with and solve are as varied as our client base.

The chances are that, whatever the litigation you face, we will have encountered a similar case before. We recognise however that each case is unique, and every client is an individual. Whilst litigation is a last resort, we focus on creating and achieving solutions.
